

“Empower,
Lead,
Excel”

The HOBY Daily

Morning Edition
Yesterday was humid with a high of 85 degrees.
Today there is a 100% chance of weather

Go to www.hobyindiana.org to view an electronic version!

Vol. MMXIX No. 1

INDIANAPOLIS, FRIDAY, JUNE 7, 2019

$0.01

Question of the Day

What was the first HOBY cheer you heard when you arrived?

“Baby Shark; I thought ‘oh my gosh why are they doing this” -Drake Dunn The Moose Group	“The Outstanding Cheer; I liked it—it was fun” -Emily Wienke The Llamas
“The Moose; it was kind of goofy but I liked it” -Nick Meadows The Mountain Lions	“Chester; I was really confused, but it broke the awkwardness” -Veronica Campos The Pandas

HOBY’s Got Talent

Last night, fourteen HOBY Ambassadors showcased their many talents and passions. From slide whistles to trombones, it’s no doubt that HOBY Indiana is full of incredible young people. Young stars filled DeHaan’s stage awing and inspiring the audience with incredible abilities. We heard and saw a great variety of talents last night, and everyone was amazed by all the performances and definitely felt the love! HOBY, you made us all believers, anywhere the wind blows!

Vanessa DeGuia takes the HOBY stage

DeGuia spoke of her personal experiences on overcoming obstacles—and how we can do the same

On Thursday, Dr. Vanessa DeGuia was the keynote speaker reinforcing phase one: personal leadership. Dr. DeGuia spoke on “the three fears:” the fear of the future, the fear of failure, and the fear of being alone and how we can counter those fears with personal gratitude. She relayed her own personal experiences on overcoming obstacles in her life, inspiring the audience to do the same. When you feel overwhelmed, remember the method Dr. DeGuia detailed in her presentation: breathe in for eight beats, hold for eight beats, then breathe out for eight beats. Dr. DeGuia ended her presentation with a slam poetry piece that serves as an affirmation for our ability to achieve our dreams.

Meet the Ambassador!

Name: Calen Campbell

Group: The Pandas

School: Rochester High School

Shout-Out: “The Pandas! Hi welcome to Panda Express!”

Calen has enjoyed his HOBY experience so far—he especially enjoyed the animal inventory and learning about different styles of leadership (Calen is a proud lion). He felt as though group time was an amazing way to get to know his group members. Calen is most looking forward to the relationships he’ll be able to develop during the seminar. He understands how quickly bonds can be formed at HOBY!

“On Fridays, we wear buttons...”
-Mean Girls

Animal Inventory Horoscopes

*“No good, no bad, no right, no wrong. Just different”
-Guy Harris*

Lion: You feel especially bold today, eager to overcome the challenges and new experiences presented to you at HOBY. Be sure to consider those around you as you move forward today.

Otter: You are energized by all the people around you, thriving with ease in the atmosphere of HOBY. Remember to stop and listen to others.

Golden Retriever: You’re excited about the all the new friends you’re going to make at HOBY! Don’t forget your worth in group discussions!

Beaver: Yesterday, you may have been taken aback by the cheering during move-in at HOBY. Be sure to share in your group and open up around others.

Meet the Ambassador!

Name: Lauren Harris

Group: The Cheetahs

School: Winchester Community High School

Shout-Out: “The Cheetahs!”

Lauren enjoyed her first day at HOBY, especially the hands-on activities. She feels as though she is a blend between a lion and a golden retriever. Lauren is eager to learn how to strengthen and expand the leadership roles she is currently in through her HOBY experience! She is also the proud owner of two miniature donkeys!

HOBY HUGS!
Instant Friendship!
Only $1.00

Tweet of the Day

*“so thankful to take part in this amazing program!! #HOBYIN19”
-@addicharles23*

Don’t forget to tag #HOBYIN19 In your posts !!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!