Kevin Wanzer Says “Aloha” to HOBY

Kevin Wanzer brought laughter to HOBY on Friday evening. His message of “ALOHA” and choosing to connect showed the audience how vital it is to find the funny in our lives. He had the audience collect leis through a game in which the object was to always respond positively to any question, leading into the statement that there is bound to be negativity in our lives, but we get to choose how we respond. Always remember “ALOHA.” ACT, love, Ohana, and laughter!

Blue a.k.a. Trey Mock “Storms” the HOBY Stage

“You have a platform. Everyone has a story.”

Friday evening, ambassadors saw the award-winning mascot, Blue, also known as Trey Mock take over the HOBY stage for the third phase of the seminar: Societal Leadership. Blue broke some rules for HOBY, including revealing the man behind the mask: Trey Mock. He spoke of his experiences as mascot, from the gross to the heartwarming, and his transformation from focusing on getting to focusing on giving. Using a fish tank, Mock demonstrated the impact of how choosing love everyday can replace negativity and flow endlessly, changing lives everywhere. Mock urged us all to take off our masks and listen to others, find someone to help at least once a day, and to not waste time, as we have less than 147, 168 hours left. “What you do with your remaining time is your choice.” Get more information at www.colts.com/chooselove.

Meet the Ambassador!

Name: Anthony Keppel

Group: The Pangolins

School: Western Boone

Shout-Out: “My group The Pangolins—it’s like a second family!”

Anthony has enjoyed HOBY and figuring out his personality type—a beaver! He feels as though he’s gone from not being enthusiastic about the cheers to happily taking part in them. Anthony is excited to be able to join the HOBY family as he believes it is something bigger than himself. He considers himself a lifelong learner who always wants to make himself and others better!

Saturday Night Lanyards

Lunch with the Pros

We asked a couple ambassadors what they learned from their Lunch with the Pros experience!

“Always be passionate about your work, especially during the learning process”

-Mel Fernandez
The Grey Wolves

“It isn’t about how well you do something; it’s about how well you interact with others”

-Brendan Wolski
The Water Bears/ The Tardigrades

Meet the Ambassador!

Name: Kate Dimmett

Group: The Meerkat

School: Zionsville Community High School

Shout-Out: “The Meerkat Squad!”

Kate thinks that HOBY has been a great opportunity to branch out and meet new people! She’s really enjoyed the keynote speakers and believes that the new skills she’s learned will always stick with her! She feels that her group has bonded really well (Kate is an otter along with many in her group). Kate has played the violin since she was three!

HOBY’s College Fair Takeaway

“I saw all of the opportunities out there and it was an eye-opener that college is something that you have to prepare for”

-Anna Siler
The Mountain Lions

“I realized that just because a school is a smaller school that doesn’t mean it isn’t the right fit for you— you just have to weigh out all your options”

-Darrick Woods
The Penguins
